

HSU-UMHB LONDON PROGRAM

COMMUNITY LIFE STANDARDS

Participation in an overseas academic program involves a more intimate community than the usual campus situation. In view of this, each student is expected to bear a greater level of responsibility and accountability. Each participant should provide support, encouragement, and prayer for others in the community, and should strive to act as a stellar example of Christian conduct. Students will be perceived by the public as representatives of both Hardin-Simmons University (HSU) and the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor (UMHB) at all times while participating in the London Program.

The Community Life Standards for the HSU-UMHB London Program are intended to define the expectations of behavior while the student is a member of the HSU-UMHB community. These standards are a matter of personal integrity and are the responsibility of the individual student to observe.

INTEGRITY is an assumed characteristic of the HSU-UMHB London Program participants. The following behavior or activities would be a compromise of personal integrity and these violations will involve sanctions or dismissal from the HSU-UMHB London Program.

1. Dishonesty, lying, deceit, theft, plagiarism, or cheating.
2. Possession or illegal use of drugs.
3. Intoxication.
4. Inappropriate sexual behavior.

We appreciate your careful attention to these standards for the community life of the HSU-UMHB London Program.

I have read the Community Life Standards for the HSU-UMHB London program and agree to abide by these standards.
