A GUIDE TO FOLLOWING THE UMHB BRAND
THROUGH MESSAGING AND COPY

UPDATED OCTOBER 2024

UMHB

MESSAGING AND COPY

As we tell the stories and promote messages about UMHB to our internal and external audiences, this writing style guide helps ensure our communication is coordinated, consistent and strategic. Using a unified writing style helps reinforce the main ideas of our brand promise across all platforms, including publications, website, collateral, media and events.

We are committed to delivering engaging and memorable content that reflects and strengthens the UMHB brand.

RESOURCES

With a few exceptions of adapted style for specific audiences, internal and external marketing and communication materials should follow AP Stylebook. If help or advice is needed, contact UMHB Marketing & Communications at 254-295-4607 or communications@umhb.edu.

EDITORIAL GUIDELINES

The following are some common style rules:

Abbreviations

- In text or copy, spell out University of Mary Hardin-Baylor on first reference. UMHB may be used in subsequent references.
- Degrees—If listing a degree is necessary, the preferred form is to spell out and avoid abbreviation (Mary Hall, a doctor of physical therapy student; John Smith, who is graduating with a bachelor's degree in music). If abbreviations are necessary, use periods (B.A., M.B.A., Ph.D.).
- Professor—Preferred use is spelling out instead of abbreviating (Professor Long is teaching the class.)
- Use Dr. on first reference only. Mr. and Mrs. is not necessary unless used in formal communications.
- MCOB for McLane College of Business (not MCoB).
- Spell out Fort Hood, Fort Worth, etc.

Ampersands

- Use only when it is part of a formal title, building name, company name, etc.
- Do not use ampersands in place of “and” unless it is part of the official name (Scott & White School of Nursing, Sue & Frank Mayborn Performing Arts Center, Paul & Jane Meyer Christian Studies Center, Frank & Sue Mayborn Campus Center) or title (John Williams, assistant professor & academic fieldwork coordinator). Some exceptions can be made in graphic design (ex. in headlines so copy will fit).

Alumni/alumnus/alumnae/alumna/Honorary Alumni

- Alumni—plural for male and female graduates.
- Alumnus—a single male graduate.
- Alumnae—plural for female graduates.
- Alumna—a single female graduate.
- EX—alumni who attended UMHB but did not graduate.
- HA—Honorary Alumni

Capitalization

- Titles are lowercase unless followed by a name (UMHB President Dr. Randy O’Rear or Dr. Randy O’Rear, president).
- Official names are capitalized (We bought books at the UMHB Campus Store.) but not when used informally (We bought books at the campus store.)
- Board of Trustees is capitalized when referring to UMHB’s.
- When referencing an academic discipline, only languages are capitalized unless followed by a number (She is an English major. He is a chemistry major. She is taking Algebra I.)
- Names of God and His Kingdom are capitalized (Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Father, Holy Spirit, Redeemer, etc.) as well as referencing pronouns (He, His, Him). Also capitalize Heaven, Bible and Gospel.
- Names of semesters are not capitalized (The deadline to register for the fall 2022 semester is coming soon.)

Dates and Time

- Unless special formatting is needed for formal invitations, use month, day and year, with commas before and after the year. (Classes will begin Jan. 5, 2022, following Christmas break.)
- When followed by a day and year, abbreviate Jan., Feb., Aug., Sept., Oct., Nov., Dec.) Spell out months when used alone or with the year (January 2022).

- For decades, use (1980s, not 1980's) or ('80s, not 80's).
- Avoid superscript (May 7, not May 7th).
- For times, a.m. and p.m. should be lowercase with periods, except in cases where space is limited.
- Unless used in a formal invitation, do not use “:00” or “o'clock.” (The event begins at 8 p.m.)
- Use “noon” and “midnight” instead of 12 a.m. and 12 p.m. Do not use both (12 noon).

Degrees

- Capitalized when a complete name is given (Master of Business Administration). The word “degree” is not needed in this instance.
- Lowercase when informal name is used (bachelor's degree).
- No apostrophe in associate degree.

Internet References

- When referencing a web address, omit “www” or “http://” (Visit umhb.edu for information.)
- In text, keep web addresses on one line—they should not be broken onto the next line with a hyphen.
- If necessary, web addresses may be bolded but never underlined.
- Check to make sure all web addresses and QR codes work correctly.

Names

- Add parenthesis around maiden names: Ann (White) Smith.
- Use quote marks for nicknames or preferred names: Melissa “Mel” Gonzales.

Numbers

- Spell out numbers one through nine; use numerals for 10 and above.
- For ages, always use numbers. (Bobby is 3 years old.)
- In text, always spell out “percent” and use numerals (Only 8 percent of students came to the meeting.)
- Use “more than” instead of “over” (More than 400 students moved into Lord Hall today.) “Over” generally is used to describe a spatial relationship (The bird flew over his head.)

Punctuation

- Oxford comma/serial comma—An additional comma is not needed in most copy.
- No comma before Jr., Sr., or numeral suffix (Michael Green Sr.)

- Use only one space after periods and colons.
- Commas and periods are placed inside ending quote marks. Questions marks can be inside or outside, depending on meaning.
- Do not hyphenate African American, Native American, fundraising, health care, yearlong.
- No spaces are used before and after an em dash. (Students are used to seeing—and using—a style guide with their work.)
- Ellipsis—Use sparingly when writing a story or web content. A space is used before and after the ellipsis. (“I’m running out of time ... to finish my paper,” the sophomore said. Paraphrase is possible to eliminate ellipsis (The sophomore only had a few more days to finish is paper.)
- The possessive for proper names ending in S only need an apostrophe (Jesus’ life, Myers’ dog).
